. . . . CLASS LIFE

SPIRITUAL LIFE . . . .

SOCIAL LIFE . . . .

Grace Theological Seminary
and Grace College
Winona Lake, Indiana

CUSTOMARILY a yearbook seeks to justify its existence by a dedication or a theme. We feel that such a book can have no meaning unless that which it portrays has meaning. Therefore we wish to dedicate the 1954 CHARIS to that which gives purpose to Grace Theological Seminary and to the lives of its students — the Word of God.

We feel that God's Word is the only hope for a world now dominated by human philosophies. Our civilization is tottering in these latter days because man has cut himself off from the only revelation which God has given. Those who still believe in the inerrancy of the Bible are accused of holding an unworthy conception of God. Liberals tell us that God's Word is immediate, subjective, mystical; that it cannot be carried within the covers of a book or identified with the words of the Bible. To the liberal, the term "God" is merely a hook on which to hang humanly conceived attributes. The words of men have been substituted for the Word of God.

We believe, on the contrary, that God is the self-revealing one, that He has spoken in such a way that men can understand Him. We praise Him that His Word can indeed be carried within the covers of the old family Bible or a battered pocket testament. God has revealed himself through the nation of Israel, through His servants the prophets, and through Jesus Christ, His Son. Furthermore God has recorded these things in an inspired Book that we might know him. Grace Theological Seminary exists primarily for the study of that Book. Having bowed our minds and hearts to the authority of the Scriptures, we as Christians are seeking to learn what God has said about himself, and what He expects from us. Instead of interpreting the Bible in the light of man-made creeds, we are seeking to draw our creeds from the Word itself.

If the Word of God were merely ink and paper, the liberals would be justified in their criticisms of evangelical Christianity as cold orthodoxy. The Word, however, is not only written, it must also be preached. The written Word points us to the historical facts upon which our faith depends: "Christ died for our sins . . . He was buried . . . He rose again." Even while studying, we at Grace are committed to the proclamation of this Good News, in the pulpit, on the street corner, and in personal testimony. Our purpose is not knowledge, even biblical knowledge, for its own sake; our purpose is to send out graduates prepared to bring to lost men and women the Word of God, that they might come into a personal relationship with the living Word, the Lord Jesus Christ. God has given us His Word not to be hoarded but to be shared. Year by year our graduates go out from this place to preach the gospel to every creature. Our prayers go with this year's Seniors. May our Lord's blessings rest upon each one in his field of service, for God has entrusted each with the highest calling on earth — the stewardship of the Word of God.

J. R. M.

Into God's unending plan
The years of man are fitted one on one
Their perfect symmetry of ritual span
The calendar of duty done.

Lately now, another year may shield
Full countenance from mortal peer
To rest unchanged by future centuries' yield
Yet apropos as early future's bier.

The new appears and to the dying brings
In vain redundance glories of the dead
While we who live in Christ dwell safe therein
And with our hearts dependent, face ahead.

To now petition

Faith . . . which to the rock like hyssop clings
Surmounting thirst and wilderness of sin
By cross cast full in Marah's bitter springs
Our sweeter lives, the evidence of real.

Wisdom . . . not as David's lesser son
Such overflows with knowledge sorrow's vault
Much rather Spirit's wisdom, Calvary won,
From Son to sons unveiled as virtue's salt.

Love . . . yea love triumphant over death
And unto life, the vesture of true child;
Nor these alone our strength, first loved of thee
We lift on high Thy Word — as Key of Promise.

ALVA J. McCLAIN
Th.M., D.D., LL.D.
President, and Professor of Christian Theology

OUTSTANDING in the field of Biblical Theology is Alva J. McClain. A gifted scholar, his life is given to the teaching of a system of Christian doctrine based entirely on the Word of God. We are grateful for the benefit of his wide range of experience and his keen theological insight. He has taught us truths which we trust will continue to be real to us throughout our future ministries. As we leave Grace, we will not soon forget the gentle wit and wisdom of Dr. McClain.

In his capacity as president, Dr. McClain heads our administration. Each faculty member is a specialist in his own field, but all share the single purpose of educating us for the ministry of the Word.

Psalm 119:13

With my lips have I declared all the judgments of thy mouth

THE WORD

. . . must be proclaimed. It is a blessing which becomes greater when shared. Even as students the obligation to fulfill the great commission is upon us, "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel"

The World Missions Fellowship, under the leadership of Russell Irwin, exists for all those interested in Missions to learn about various fields, and to pray intelligently for the ministry of the Word throughout the world.

At the same time we at Grace realize that we have a Mission field here at home. The Grace Seminary Gospel Team, directed by Donald Locke, sends groups to witness at jails, hospitals, nursing homes, and street meetings. The following pages depict aspects of the spiritual life at Grace.

OF special blessing is the ministry to the sick and infirm. Each week a team is sent to the Alfran Nursing Home and to nearby hospitals. The Word brings hope and conviction to the hearts of those who are shut in. At the nursing home a Gospel message is followed by personal visitation, where students bear their testimony . . .

MANIFOLD blessings belong to those among the students who assume a student pastorate during their school years. By working with congregations in the near-by area the student pastors are able to minister to their people in the pulpit and in the home, and they gain valuable insight by applying the knowledge and skills learned in the classroom.

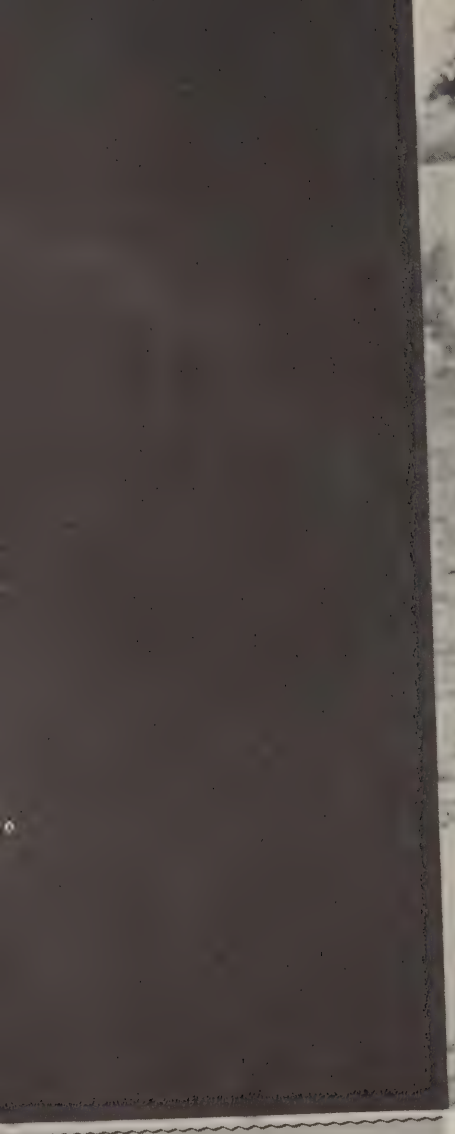
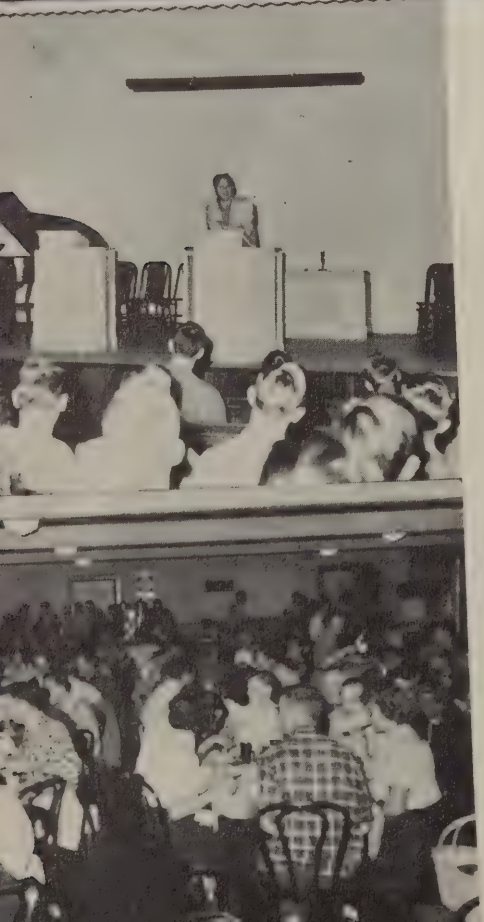
Psalm 119:14

I have rejoiced in the way of Thy testimonies, as much as in all riches

THE WORD

. . . forms the basis of our fellowship throughout every aspect of the Christian life. In our every day social activities our desire is to do all things in the light of God's Word.





The only way to have experience . . . .

In our last fling of the summer season we assembled at Lake Wawasee for the Fall retreat. Torrey Johnson's message started off the morning on a spiritual note. After a day of softball, volleyball, and plenty of good food we returned tired but happy and ready for the fall term.

The faculty greeted us

Their wives served us

PUNCH and conversation were in order following introductions at the faculty reception in September. All who attended had opportunity to make new acquaintances, while in many instances, old ones were renewed. A challenging message capped the evening's activities, thus completing a successful launching of the young school year.

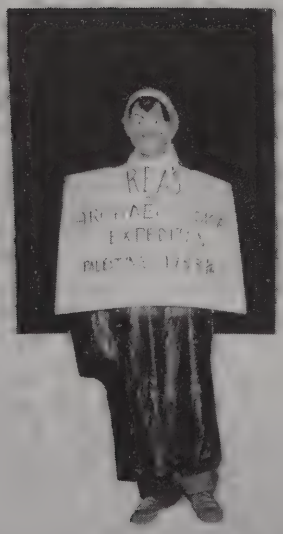
Don goes up against Trinity

UNDER the leadership of Dick Messner, basketball came back into its own at Grace this year. Despite lack of gym and lack of practice, the team chalked up 12 victories and 9 defeats against strong local independent teams. The highlight came at the Wheaton Invitational, where Grace lost to Trinity of Chicago in the finals but won the hearts of the spectators. Credit goes to the team for its hustle and enthusiasm. The old refrain, "Wait 'till next year," for once has a promising ring.

SCREAMS split the air as one by one we entered the darkness of the Hallowe'en Party. Students paraded in costumes of mummies, clowns, and ghosts for an evening of games and refreshments, after which Warren Purdy brought the devotions.



BOUFFANT skirts were much in evidence as the college-sponsored formal banquet was held in the lower auditorium. Following a succulent meal, the guests were entertained with a program in the newly furnished lounge. A Christian film, "The Great Discovery" climaxed this highly successful evening.

GOOD Christians are good citizens. Grace Seminary proved it by opening her doors to the Red Cross. The Fort Wayne Bloodmobile came and transformed the lower auditorium into a blood center, where many students as well as a number of outsiders each gave a pint of blood to relieve suffering and save life. Let's keep an eye on Warren Jacobs as he makes the rounds.

RELAXATION between classes centered around the three ping-pong tables in the lower auditorium. Ping-pong was one sport which flourished unhampered by snow and mud. Fifty-six devotees signed up for a tournament which absorbed our interest for several weeks. George Triandiflou was champ with nary a loss through nineteen games, defeating Charles Noffsinger in the final round.

When the Last Engraving is printed, and the plates are rusty and dried,

When the Oldest Cover has faded, and the Newest Binding is tied,

We shall rest and, sure we shall need it — lie down for a summer or two,

'Till the Chairman of Critical Monographs shall put us to work anew.

And those who succeed us shall prosper, they shall sit in a Swivel Chair,

They shall edit a thousand-page Yearbook, with copy and cuts to spare,

They shall have a Large Staff to draw from — artists and writers on call,

They shall work but an hour at a sitting, and never be weary at all.

And all of the Students shall praise them, and none of the Students shall blame,

They shall work with Unlimited Money; they shall work for Unlimited Fame,

But we, with our work all completed, and each in his Separate Car,

Now flee from the scene of our labor, so here your Annuals Are.
